CHAPTER I.

His gracious majesty King Charles II. of England, in sportive — and acquisitive — mood, had made him a knight; but, as that merry monarch himself had said of another unworthy subject whom he had ennobled — his son, by the left hand — "God Almighty could not make him a gentleman!"

Yet, to the casual inspection, little or nothing appeared to be lacking to entitle him to all the consideration attendant upon that ancient degree. His attire, for instance, might be a year or two behind the fashion of England and still farther away from that of France, then, as now, the standard maker in dress, yet it represented the extreme of the mode in his majesty's fair island of Jamaica. That it was a trifle too vivid in its colors and too striking in its contrasts for the best taste at home possibly might be condoned by the richness of the material used and the prodigality of trimming which decorated it. Silk and satin from the orient, lace from Flanders, leather from Spain, with jewels from everywhere, marked him as a person entitled to some consideration at least. Even more compulsory of attention, if not of respect, were his haughty, overbearing, satisfied manner, his look of command, the expression of authority in action he bore.

Quite in keeping with his gorgeous appearance was the richly furnished room in which he sat in autocratic isolation, plumed hat on head, quaffing, as became a former brother of the coast and sometime buccaneer, amazing drafts of the fiery spirits of the island of which he happened to be, at interim, the royal authority.

But it was his face which attested the acuteness of the sneering observation of the unworthy giver of the royal accolade. No gentleman ever bore face like that. Framed in long, thin, gray curls which fell upon his shoulders after the fashion of the time, it was as cruel, as evil, as seditious, as ruthless, as powerful an old face as had ever looked over a bulwark at a sinking ship or viewed with indifference the ravaging of a devoted town. Courage there was, capacity in large measure, but not one trace of human kindness. Thin, lean, hawk-like, ruthless, cunning, weather beaten, it was sadly out of place in his brave attire in that vaulted chamber. It was the face of a man who ruled by terror, who commanded by might. It was the face of an adventurer, too, one never sure of his position, but always ready to fight for it and able to fight well. There was a watchful, alert, inquiring look in the fierce blue eyes, an intent, expectant expression in the craggy countenance, that told of the uncertainties of his assumptions; yet the lack of assurance was compensated for by the firm, resolute line of the mouth under the trailing upturned mustache, with its lips at the same time thin and sensual. And he was an old man too. Sixty odd years of vicious life, glossed over in the last two decades by an assumption of respectability, had swept over the gray hairs, which evoked no reverence.

There was a heavy frown on his face on that summer evening in the year of our Lord 1685. The childless wife whom he had taken for his betterment and her worsening some ten years since — in succession to Satan only knew how many nameless, unrecognized precursors — had died a few moments before in the chamber above his head. Fairly bought from a needy father, she had been a cloak to lend him a certain respectability when he settled down, red with the blood of thousands whom he had slain and rich with the treasure of cities that he had wasted, to enjoy the evening of his life. Like all who are used for such purposes, she knew after a little space the man over whom the mantle of her reputation had been flung. She had rejoiced at the near approach of that death for which she had been longing almost since her wedding day. That she had shrunk from him in the very articles of dissolution when he stood by her bedside indicated the character of the relationship.

To witness death and to cause it had been the habit of this man. He marked it in her case, as in others, with absolute indifference — he cared so little for her that he did not even feel relief at her going — yet because he was the governor of Jamaica (really he was only the vice governor, but between the departure of the royal governor and the arrival of another he held supreme power) he had been forced to keep himself close on the day his wife died by that public opinion to which he was indifferent, but which he could not entirely defy. Consequently he had not been on the strand at Port Royal when the Mary Rose, frigate, fresh from England, had dropped anchor in the harbor after her weary voyage across the great sea. He did not even yet know of her arrival, and therefore the incoming governor had not been welcomed by the man who sat temporarily, as he had in several preceding interregnums, in the seats of the mighty.

However, everybody else on the island had welcomed him with joy, for of all men who had ever held office in Jamaica Sir Henry Morgan, sometime the chief devil of those nefarious bands who disguised their piracy under the specious title of buccaneering, was the most detested. But because of the fortunate demise of Lady Morgan, as it turned out, Sir Henry was not present to greet My Lord Carlingford, who was to supersede him — and more.

The deep potatoes the old buccaneer had indulged in to all outward intent passed harmlessly down his lean and craggy throat. He drank alone — the more solitary the drinker the more dangerous the man — yet the room had another occupant, a tall, brawny, brown hued, grim faced savage, whose gaudy livery ill accorded with his stern and ruthless visage. He stood by the vice governor, watchful, attentive and silent, imperturbably filling again and again the goblet from which he drank.

"More rum," said the master, at last breaking the silence while lifting his tall glass toward the man. "Scuttle me, Black-Dog," he added, smiling sardonically at the silent maroon who poured again with steady hand, "you are the only soul on this island who doesn't fear me. That woman above yonder, curse her, shuddered away from me as I looked at her dying. But your hand is steady. You and old Ben Hornigold are the only ones who don't shrink back, hey, Carib? Is it love or hate?" he mused, as the man made no answer. "More," he cried, again lifting the glass which he had instantly drained.

But the maroon, instead of pouring, bent his head toward the window, listened a moment and then turned and lifted a warning hand. The soft breeze of the evening, laden with the fragrance of the tropics, swept up from the river and wafted to the vice governor's ears the sound of hoof beats on the hard, dry road. With senses keenly alert he also listened. There were a number of them — a troop possibly. They were drawing nearer; they were coming toward his house, the summer house near Spanish Town, far up on the mountain side, where he sought relief from the enervating heats of the lower land.

"Horsemen!" he cried. "Coming to the house! Many of them! Ah, they dismount! Go to the door, Carib."

But before the maroon could obey they heard steps on the porch. Some one entered the hall. The door of the drawing room was abruptly thrown open and two men in the uniform of the English army, with the distinguishing marks of the governor's guard at Jamaica, unceremoniously entered the room. They were fully armed. One of them, the second, had drawn his sword and held a cocked pistol in the other hand. The first, whose weapons were still in their sheaths, carried a long official paper with a portentous seal dangling from it. Both were booted and spurred and dusty from riding, and both, contrary to the custom and etiquette of the island, kept their plumed hats on their heads.

"Sir Henry Morgan!" began the bearer of the paper.

"By your leave, gentlemen!" interrupted Morgan, with an imperious wave of his hand. "Lieutenant Hawxherst and Ensign Bradley of my guard, I believe. You will uncover at once and apologize for having entered so unceremoniously."

As he spoke the governor rose to his feet and stood by the table, his right hand unconsciously resting upon the heavy glass flagon of rum. He towered above the other two men as he stood there transfixing them with his resentful glance, his brow heavy with threat and anger. But the two soldiers made no movement toward complying with the admonition of their sometime superior.

"D'ye hear me?" he cried, stepping forward, reddening with rage at their apparent contumacy. "And bethink ye, sirs, had best address me, who stand in the place of the king's majesty, as 'your excellency,' or I'll have you broke, knaves!"

"We need no lessons in manners from you, Sir Henry Morgan," cried Hawxherst, angry in turn to be so browbeaten, though yesterday he would have taken it mildly enough. "And know by this, sir," lifting the paper, "that you are no longer governor of this island and can claim respect from no one."

"What do you mean?"

"The Mary Rose frigate arrived this morning, bringing Lord Carlingford as his majesty's new governor and this order of arrest."

"Arrest? For whom?"

"For one Sir Henry Morgan."

"For what, pray?"

"Well, sir, for murder, theft, treason — the catalogue fills the paper. You are to be dispatched to England to await the king's pleasure. I am sent by Lord Carlingford to fetch you to the jail at Port Royal."

"You seem to find it a pleasant task," "By heaven, I do, sir!" cried the soldier fiercely. "I am a gentleman born, of the proudest family in the Old Dominion, and have been forced to bow and scrape and endure your insults and commands, you bloody villain, but now —"

"Tis no part of a soldier's duty, sir, to insult a prisoner," interrupted Morgan, not without a certain dignity. He was striving to gain time to digest this surprising piece of news and thinking deeply what was to be done in this entirely unexpected crisis.

"Curse it all, Hawxherst!" Ensign Bradley burst out, pulling at the sleeve of his superior. "You go too far, man. This is unseemly."

Hawxherst passed his hand across his brow and by an effort somewhat regained his self control.

"Nathless 'tis in this paper writ that you are to go to England a prisoner on the Mary Rose to await the king's pleasure," he added savagely.

"His gracious majesty hath laid his sword upon my shoulder. I am a knight of his English court, one who has served him well upon the seas. His coffers have I enriched by — but let that pass. I do not believe that King Charles, God bless him!"

"Stop! The Mary Rose brings the news that King Charles II. is dead, and there reigns in his stead his gracious majesty King James."

"God rest the soul of the king!" cried Morgan, lifting his hat from his head. "He was a merry and a gallant gentleman. I know not this James. How if I do not go with you?"

"You have ten minutes in which to decide, sir," answered Hawxherst.

"And then?"

"Then if I don't bring you forth the men of yonder troop will come in without further order. Eh, Bradley?"

"Quite so, Sir Henry," answered the younger man. "And every avenue of escape is guarded. Yield you, sir. Believe me, there's naught else."

HARMONIOUS ACTION

Everything Lovely in Indianapolis Municipal Campaign.

Indianapolis, May 12.—Edwin Logsdon, chairman of the Republican city committee, announced today that the primaries for the reorganization for the coming municipal campaign will be held May 26 and the election of a new chairman and secretary of the following day. The precinct committeemen will be elected by direct primary as provided for by law. They will decide whether the nomination of the ticket shall be by direct vote or convention. It is the general understanding that there shall be direct primaries, as all the candidates are in favor of them. Logsdon will retire as chairman, as he does not care to serve through another campaign. It is the understanding that Robert Metzger, ex-county sheriff, will be elected as his successor. There will be no row over the organization—at least it does not seem now that there will be. Chairman Logsdon will probably issue his official call for the primaries within a day or two, so no one may claim that he did not have due notice.

According to the report of State Statistician Joseph Stubbs there were 5,110 saloons in Indiana last year, an increase of 275 over 1903. There were 136 incorporated towns and two counties—Brown and Pike—that were without saloons. There was not a city, however, without a saloon. Rensselaer, Rising Sun and Union City, with four each, had the smallest number. Indianapolis, Terre Haute, South Bend and other large cities show a considerable increase in the number of saloons over the preceding year. Evansville and Fort Wayne are the only cities near the first class where the number of saloons is smaller. In East Chicago, Clinton and other small cities the increase in the number of saloons amounted to from forty to fifty per cent. The increase in Perry, Sullivan, Vermillion, Steuben and Hancock counties ranged from 100 to over 200 per cent. The figures furnish an interesting study for the reform element which, led by Governor Hanly, is trying to drive out the saloons. In Attica, Martinsville, Montpelier, Bedford, Jeffersonville, Logansport, Muncie, New Albany, Columbia City, Columbus, Covington, Veedsburg, Decatur and Frankfort a number of saloons were wiped out, but not enough to prevent the total being larger than before. It is very likely, however, that the number will be decreased this year, as the reformers are preparing to take advantage of the Moore law enacted during the recent legislature, giving them power to remonstrate against all applicants of a ward or township at the same time. In several cities these blanket remonstrances have been presented, and in many others the reformers are hard at work on them.

Attorney General Charles W. Miller is not ready to announce whether or not he will be a candidate for governor. He will wait until after the state campaign next year before making a public statement. He believes two years are sufficient to give to the race and that it is inadvisable to enter at this time. Unless the unexpected happens the attorney general will be a candidate. The gubernatorial bee stung him pretty hard toward the close of the campaign last year. Some of the unsuccessful candidates for the senate who were very anxious to get Miller into the race in hopes of breaking up the plans of Senator Hemenway and his supporters firmly believe that before Miller withdrew from the race he was promised the support of the Hemenway men for governor. If such is the case there is not much doubt that he will be the most formidable candidate in the field, as he is said to be the favorite of the Boveridge men.

THE KNOWN DEAD

In the Harrisburg Wreck and Explosion Number Twenty.

MANY WERE INJURED

In This Latter List There Were No Fewer Than a Hundred, a Number of Whom Will Die.

That Mortality List was Not Greater Is Remarkable Considering the Circumstances.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 12.—Twenty persons are known to be dead and more than 100 others were injured in the train wreck and dynamite explosion which occurred yesterday on the Pennsylvania railroad in the southern part of this city. That not more persons were killed is considered remarkable by the Pennsylvania officials, as a full boxcar of dynamite exploded directly at the middle of the heavy express train.

The following is a list of the dead: V. L. Crabbe, Pittsburg; George Zeigler, Pittsburg; Jas. R. Phillips, Pittsburg; Paul Bright, Pittsburg; Mr. Shaw, Pittsburg; J. L. Silverman, Philadelphia; Mrs. Robert J. Dougherty, Philadelphia; H. K. Thomas, Parsburg, Pa., engineer of express train; C. Kuhlman, Altoona, Pa.; Norma Martina, seven months old; nine unidentified bodies.

The train carried a number of prominent persons and most of them escaped with only slight injuries. Among those on the train were Mr. and Mrs. James R. Tindel of Pittsburg, the latter the daughter of United States Senator Knox; Mrs. A. J. Barr, wife of the proprietor of the Pittsburg Post, and her two daughters; Victor L. Crabbe, son-in-law of Robert Pittman of Pittsburg, assistant to President A. J. Cassett of the Pennsylvania railroad, and Samuel S. Shubert, one of the prominent theatrical managers of New York. Mr. Crabbe died in the Harrisburg hospital a few minutes after his father-in-law reached his bedside. Mr. Shubert was reported to be badly injured, but the others were only slightly hurt. The wrecked train was the second section of the Cleveland and Cincinnati express. It consisted of a combination baggage and smoking car, one day coach and six sleepers. There were various stories of how the wreck occurred, but the official version is as follows:

The engine on an eastbound freight train was flagged by the crew of a shifting engine ahead on the same track. The engineer quickly put on his air-brakes and the train, an unusually long one, came to a sudden halt. The strain on the air-valves was a severe one and a connecting air-hose in the middle of the train blew out. This caused the middle of the train to "buckle" and the damaged cars fell over on the passenger tracks.

Just as this happened the Cleveland express came thundering up and "side-swiped" the wreck. The express was stopped within its own length and the third sleeper was opposite the wrecked cars. Before anyone could leave the passenger train, which was not very badly damaged, a few slight explosions occurred, and then there was one great flash and roar that shook the earth. The whole affair occurred within a period of a few seconds.

A scene of horror followed the explosion of the dynamite. The passenger cars and some of the freight cars instantly took fire. As the reverberation of the terrific explosion died away the agonized cries of the injured could be heard. Men and women came tumbling and climbing from the car windows and crawled from under the wreckage. No one for the moment seemed to know what to do, and many of the passengers, momentarily seized with terror, ran wildly about the fields on the north side of the railroad or waded into the shallow waters of the river which parallels the railroad on the south. Realizing their safety and the danger still threatening others, the frightened passengers soon began the rescue of the living. As they approached the wreck another explosion occurred which sent them scurrying away. Fearing that the entire freight train might be loaded with dynamite, no one dared go near the wreck. Finally the railroad men who knew the contents of the burning freight train, led the way and the uninjured passengers followed.

The work of rescue was at first slow and it seemed as though the flames would envelop the entire express train before those who were pinned beneath the heavy wreckage could be freed. From everywhere there came cries for help, and the frantic rescuers worked with willing hands. Scores of those who were trapped in their sleeping berths or pinioned under wreckage were taken out and laid in the field badly hurt.

The rapid advance of the fire drove the rescuers back as they were about to take others from the wreck, and unfortunately, men and women, were soon enveloped in flames. The cries of the dying were heartrending, but nothing could be done for them.

An alarm of fire was sent in, but when the firemen reached the scene the flames had done their work. The entire train was consumed by fire.

FROM THE FRONT

Reported Japanese Advance Was Not a Formidable Movement.

Gunshu Pass, May 12.—The Japanese advance now appears to have been a feint to ascertain the strength of the Russian outposts, which have again been pushed forward on the left at Lafangol, Erdahol and Tougol and along the center line from Podysousche to Shihoua, where the Japanese attacked the Russians May 7 and 8 but were repulsed. The next day, in order to oust the Japs from the Shahetky mines from which their attack was organized, a column of cavalry supported by artillery moved forward under cover of the Russian guns and the mines were turned, the Japanese retreating first to Sinlanzou and later to Madiop, three miles south of Chantafu.

On the right flank the situation is unchanged. The Russian front resembles a crescent with the center resting on the railroad and the horns pointing south.

Prisoners say the new troops from Japan are old men and youths. They give the Japanese losses at Mukden as 12,355 killed and about 70,000 wounded. Oyama was at the front during the recent activity, making his headquarters at Chantafu.

Brisk Skirmish Reported.

Tokio, May 12.—The following telegram from army headquarters in Manchuria has been officially given out: "On the morning of May 9 the enemy, consisting of two regiments of infantry, five sotnias of cavalry and one battery of artillery, made an attack in the vicinity of Yingcheng from the direction of Nanshanhengtsu, which is fifteen miles east of Yingcheng. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the enemy made a resolute attack. Under cover of the artillery the infantry advanced to within 100 meters of our line, whereupon our garrison assumed the offensive, attacked and dispersed the enemy. The enemy left sixty killed and 160 wounded on the field. Besides these, soldiers dressed in Chinese clothing carried away many killed and wounded. The enemy's losses are estimated at 300. Our casualties were one killed and fifty wounded."

Expressions of Sympathy.

Washington, May 12.—The International Railway congress unanimously adopted resolutions expressing sympathy to the injured, to families of deceased, the railroad company and the employees involved in the railway accident at Harrisburg. The resolutions were offered by Sir George Armitage of England and accepted by the congress by rising vote.

More Life for Smith.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 12.—Berkley Smith will not be hanged next week. He is a negro under sentence to die May 19 for the murder of his wife at Indianapolis. The supreme court has granted a stay of execution until June 30, at the same time ordering that all briefs in the case be filed by June 5, so that the case can be taken up and decided.

Exchanges Shots With Robbers.

Madison, Ind., May 12.—The safe in John B. McConnell's general store and postoffice at Lancaster, this county, was blown open and robbed by three burglars, who escaped after exchanging shots with McConnell. McConnell says only a small sum in money and stamps were secured.

Church Sticks to Pastor.

New Albany, Ind., May 12.—The official board of the Park Christian church has adopted resolutions expressing its belief in the innocence of its former pastor, the Rev. Ulysses G. Sutherland, accused of killing his wife, Mrs. Geneva L. Sutherland.

Reaches Washington Safely.

Washington, May 12.—President Roosevelt arrived on his special train over the Pennsylvania railroad at midnight last night.

Mothers Are Helped

THEIR HEALTH RESTORED

Happiness of Thousands of Homes Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's Advice.

A devoted mother seems to listen to every call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells her to guard her health, and before she realizes it some derangement of the female organs has manifested itself, and nervousness and irritability take the place of happiness and amiability.

Tired, nervous and irritable, the mother is unfit to care for her children, and her condition ruins the child's disposition and reacts upon herself.

The mother should not be blamed, as she no doubt is suffering with backache, headache, bearing-down pains or displacement, making life a burden. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for this condition. It strengthens the female organs and permanently cures all displacements and irregularities.

Such testimony as the following should convince women of its value:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered for eight years with ovarian troubles. I was nervous, tired and irritable, and it did not seem as though I could stand it any longer, as I had five children to care for. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it has entirely cured me. I cannot thank you enough for your letter of advice and for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. — Mrs. Ph. Hoffman, 100 Hiram Street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

REFUSED TO TESTIFY

Another Complication In Chicago Strike Situation.

Chicago, May 12.—The most important feature of the strike situation at present is the examination of witnesses before Master in Chancery Sherman, who is taking testimony relative to the alleged violation of the federal injunctions granted in favor of the employers' association and of the seven express companies.

Adolph Mail, for eleven years an employee of the United States Express company but now a striker, refused to answer questions on the ground that he might incriminate himself. The queries put to him by the attorney for the employers' association covered the grounds of the cause of the strike and whether or not the officials of his union ordered or advised him to strike. To all of these questions Attorney Labosky for the defendants made strenuous objections, with the result that there occurred between him and Attorney Mayer, acting for the plaintiffs, numerous altercations, in one of which Attorney Mayer declared that in stating matters to the master, Attorney Labosky had been unfair, almost to the point of dishonesty.

The wrangles were finally terminated by the statement of the master that the matter would be certified to the federal court as to whether or not the witness had proper grounds on which to base his refusal to answer questions. Attorney Mayer said that he would not take the matter before the court immediately, because he expected similar occurrences in the future and he would present them all at one time.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it — heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

A CONFIDENTIAL CHAT.

"It's perfect nonsense, Bessie, for you to talk of being laid on the shelf. Why, it all depends on yourself. Forget your worries, your aches and ailments; do as I did, take plenty of out-of-door air, cultivate happiness by not allowing your mind to dwell on the trifles and the worries of life. I sent thirty-one cents in stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for his 'Common Sense Medical Adviser,' and found it contained much useful information about the care of my health, about physiology, anatomy, and everything a woman should know. I then decided to write Dr. Pierce and tell him all about my ailments. I received such a nice, carefully considered and confidential letter in reply, giving me advice about my diet, exercise and all. This advice is free to everyone and I wonder you don't write him at once. It didn't take me many months to regain my good looks. Ever since I was fifteen I have suffered untold agonies periodically but now I am free from pain, worry and bad temper. Occasionally I took Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets — this for the complexion, and to stimulate the liver. Then I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription three times a day for those womanly weaknesses I told you about. That's my secret of beauty. It's the easiest thing in the world to be happy and keep one's good looks. Look at the thousands of women who have been made well by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; look how they keep their good looks. Dr. Pierce offers $500 reward for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure."

THE Chicago strike may interfere with the shipment of berries from Southern Indiana. The Express companies will scarcely undertake to deliver berries in that city under present conditions. The "strawberry specials" may not be run to Chicago this year as in the past.

THE Bloomington papers seem to have overlooked that escapee of the "Jaw Bones" fraternity and the fake arrest of several Indiana University boys and girls in the early hours of the morning. But the papers were doubtless heartily ashamed of the whole matter and did not care to advertise it.

THE New Castle Courier relates a story of how a great lot of people in Henry county were swindled by giving orders for clothing and all manner of goods to some agents for Chicago houses instead of buying at home. They have been taught a good lesson, though the price of it was pretty heavy.

A YOUNG lawyer in Indianapolis seeking some notoriety, a distinction which he has probably not attained through the practice of his profession, strolled through the Marion county court house corridors smoking a cigarette. He wanted to be arrested and as the grand jury was in session his ambition was gratified in short order. Nice example for a lawyer to set before the people. Here is one who does not believe in the "majesty of the law."

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison (Kan.) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office today, we asked him about it. He says he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he said it cured him. He recommended it to others who were also cured." CITY COUNCIL.

Proceedings of Regular Meeting Last Night.

The city council met in regular session last night. Mayor Graessle and all councilmen were present at roll call. The minutes were read and approved after which the following business was transacted:

Mills stated that the building committee could only report progress. The committee is waiting the coming of the architect with completed plans and specifications. Mills also reported that the committee on revision of the city ordinances had held one meeting and had the work under way, though they found it a very heavy job. The committee to which was referred the matter of conferring with the Seymour Home Telephone Company about rates for admitting rural telephone lines reported that a meeting with representative of the telephone company had been arranged for. A communication from the telephone company expressing their willingness to meet with the committee at any time named was read.

The fire chief reported two vacancies in the fire department, caused by the resignations of C. Hoper and G. Manuel, and recommended that J. H. Abden and Marshal Helms be appointed. The matter of filling these vacancies was referred to the mayor in accordance with the new law.

The report of the street commissioner was read and filed.

The city attorney, J. H. Kamman, made a statement relative to the city ordinances, recommending that a general revision of the ordinances of the city was badly needed. He found them poorly indexed and many of them in apparent conflict. He said the ordinances should be revised, codified and published in pamphlet form. On motion of Cordes the committee previously appointed to revise the license ordinances was instructed to proceed with this work along the line of the attorney's suggestions.

The improvement committee reported that they had investigated the gutter in front of the Pettig property on Jeff. Avenue and recommended that the owners of property be given the privilege of setting posts to protect their trees and sidewalks. Report approved.

Cordes handed up the report of Joseph H. Hodapp, Chas. H. Cordes and James Honan, appraisers of the Greeman furniture factory site, having been appointed by the judge of the Jackson circuit court to make the report. They fixed the value of the real estate on which the factory is situated at $1500. The report of the appraisers was approved. A resolution was adopted instructing the mayor to execute a deed to L. F. Greeman & Co. for this real estate in accordance with the provisions of the appraisal upon the payment of amount of appraised value.

An ordinance for the appropriation of $11,150 to meet the estimated expenditures of the city for one year from date was introduced and passed. The estimated expenses are set out in detail as follows:

Streets and alleys.....	$7000 00
Incidentals, coal, etc.....	600 00
Police.....	1400 00
Stationary and printing.....	300 00
Garbage.....	450 00
Prisoners.....	150 00
Elections.....	500 00
Contagious diseases.....	250 00
Contingent expenses.....	500 00

The street commissioner was instructed to clean up the city cemetery. The mayor stated that complaint was made to him about slops and garbage not being removed within a reasonable length of time. Mills and others stated that similar complaints had been made to them. The importance of systematic work in this line was emphasized on the minds of those having it in charge.

Mayor Graessle announced that under the provisions of the new law he will meet the several standing committees each month as follows:

On the first Tuesday of each month the fire committee and the chief of the fire department.

On the first Wednesday of each month the Finance committee.

On the first Friday of each month the Board of Public Improvement and street committee.

On the second Tuesday of each month the Police Board and the chief of police.

Under the head of miscellaneous business a few things were disposed of after which council adjourned at 9:15.

ASKS PROTECTION.

Young Woman Swears She Fears Charles McNicholas.

Charles McNicholas is on trial today before Justice Blish and a jury of twelve men on a peace warrant sworn out by Miss Iva Carpenter, of Uniontown. In her complaint Miss Carpenter alleges that she has reason to fear that McNicholas will injure her by violence and that she also fears that he will do violence to her father and mother, George W. Carpenter and wife, and to their property and asks the protection of the law.

This affidavit was made early in March after Miss Carpenter had received some threatening letters, which it alleged were sent to her by McNicholas. He was arrested then and placed in jail and held until the present term of court on an indictment returned nearly five years ago, charging him with firing a shot through the window at Miss Carpenter at her home near Uniontown. That charge was dismissed last week.

McNicholas denies writing letters or of making threats against Miss Carpenter or any of her relatives. He stated on the witness stand that he could not write, though he had gone to school eight or ten winters. Prosecution, however, contends that he can write and is the author of these threatening letters, which were given in evidence at the trial today. The case is being argued as we go to press.

MUCH MIXED UP

Doubtful Legal Status of Fowlerton's Town Officers.

RESIGNATIONS, REMOVALS AND OTHER COMPLICATIONS BRING ABOUT A PRETTY STATE OF THINGS.

TOWNSPEOPLE ARE NOW WONDERING IF THERE IS REALLY A TOWN ORGANIZATION.

Fowlerton, Ind., May 12.—There is a peculiar state of affairs here at present. The town was incorporated with three trustees, a clerk-treasurer and a marshal. One of the trustees has moved to Kansas, one to his farm in the country, the marshal to Upland, while the clerk-treasurer intends to remove to Gas City. This will leave Fowlerton with but one of the originally elected officers. For some time no meetings of the town board were held, but after the governor's recent order for law enforcement the resident member of the board, with the one living in the country, met and appointed a marshal. The new marshal notified the saloon keepers that the Nicholson law must be respected. These orders were obeyed. A movement is now under way to stop baseball, and against this there is a protest.

Meanwhile the recently appointed marshal resigned, and at the last meeting of what remains of the town board another marshal was appointed. Still another man has been appointed trustee, while a federal officer is seeking to be named as clerk. The legality of these appointments is questioned, and people are waiting to know if there is really a town organization. It is likely that an effort will be made to dump the entire affair.

GIRLS IN JAIL

Co-Eds at State University Victims of a Dubious "Joke."

Bloomington, Ind., May 12.—Sheriff Hough and four deputies, looking from behind big revolvers, broke up the dance of the Jawbones, an Indiana University fraternity. Some of the co-eds were rendered nearly frantic and begged the officers to allow them to go. The sheriff and his deputies were heartless, however, and marched the dancers to the county jail, where they were locked up.

The cause of the interference was reckless shooting by the Jawbone brothers. They came to the dance dressed as cowboys—in buckskins and with plenty of sidearms. The girls, too, were in the spirit of the dance, and they were dressed in Western fashion. At the suggestion of the boys they helped to make some noise to make the occasion seem more realistic, never thinking of the police.

The sheriff said he was willing to let the prisoners go if they would furnish bondsmen. This was done and Mayor Claude Malott and others who happened to be near signed the bond after the girls had affixed their signatures with trembling hands. Just as the bond had been completed a colored chef walked into the jail door and announced that luncheon would be served on the third floor. It was then that the girls realized that they had been the victims of a joke.

Now the joke may take on a serious air. The sheriff was censured by some of the parents for his action, and it is rumored that suit may be brought against him.

In Flourishing Condition.

Indianapolis, May 12.—Reports of Grand Recorder Prather and Grand Treasurer Hutchinson of the Indiana grand commandery, Knights Templar, show a gain of 412 members the last year, the greatest increase in the history of the state. The total accessions were 620; the reductions, 208. To the forty-seven chartered commanderies in the state, with an aggregate membership of 5,116, two commanderies were added yesterday by grant of charters to Rushville and Goshen. The balance in the treasury was reported at $8,329.42. The receipts for the year, with the balance, were $14,698.87; the disbursements, $6,366.45.

THE BEST TONIC

When the system gets debilitated and in a run-down condition it needs a tonic and there has never been one discovered that is the equal of S. S. S. It is especially adapted for a systemic remedy, because it contains no strong minerals to derange the stomach and digestion, and affect the liver and bowels. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks selected for their purifying and healing qualities, and possesses just the properties that are needed to restore to the body strong robust health. When the blood becomes impure and clogged with waste matters and poisons the body does not receive sufficient nourishment and suffers from debility, weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion and many other disagreeable symptoms of a disordered blood circulation, and if it is not corrected some form of malignant fever or other dangerous disorder will follow. S. S. S. builds up the broken down constitution, clears the blood of all poisons and impurities and makes it strong and healthy. The nerves are restored to a calm restful state, refreshing sleep is had again, the appetite returns and the whole system is toned up by this great remedy. S. S. S. is a blood purifier and tonic and acts promptly in this run-down depleted condition of the system. Book on the blood and medical advice furnished by our physicians, without charge.

Charles Decker and Henry Cordes of Seymour came down this morning to do some tin work on the new Christian church.—Scottsburg Telegram.

John Wilhelm came down from Indianapolis last night to spend a week with Mrs. Wilhelm, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Cordes.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morton, of Seymour who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Francis M. Harvey, went to Anderson this morning.—Mrs. Elnor Newsom, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Amanda Williams, returned this morning to her home in Seymour.—Columbus Herald.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

It is reported that a new time card will go into effect on the B. & O. S-W. on May 21.

A. N. Breeze and W. A. Holley, of Cincinnati, were in the city last evening on business with Harley Jackson for the Union Pacific.

Grant S. Ward, who resigned the position of Superintendent of Police of the B. and O. S-W system last Monday has returned from Pennsylvania where he visited his new field of labor, that of looking after the police protection of a coal and iron concern near Altoona. His successor on the B. and O. S-W has not been appointed.

ELEVEN MILCH COWS

Killed By Lightning on Fred Mel-lencamp's Farm—

During the electrical storm Thursday night eleven head of milch cows belonging to Fred Mellencamp near Cortland were killed by lightning. The cattle were huddled together in a lot about a straw stack when the lightning struck them. This is probably the largest number of cattle ever killed by one bolt of lightning in this vicinity.

Along with the fierce electrical storm there was a heavy downpour of rain. From every direction come reports of flooded streams and the overflowing of low bottom lands. Since the rains began a few days ago, the river at Rockford has risen about six feet and it has been gradually rising during today and is now out in the low bottoms. Should the rains continue much longer considerable damage to wheat and other crops along the river would result. The Muscatatuck and Mutton creek are already overflowing the bottom lands along their banks.

Trains Delayed.

West bound trains on the B. & O. S-W. road were delayed several hours last night and today. A washout at Delhi, Ohio, last night delayed No. 3 more than four hours. It did not reach this city until after four o'clock Friday morning. After that train had passed there was a washout at Dillsboro and at other places between Milan and Cochran, which delayed No. 5 and all other west bound trains. No. 5 did not reach Seymour until 10:20 this forenoon. This train was held at the washout for five hours while temporary repairs were made. No damage from highwater is reported west of Seymour.

Probably Same Man.

It is suspected here that the faker who passed some bad drafts at North Vernon, giving his name as C. P. Hull, is the same man who tried to pay Chas. H. Hustedt for a factory site with some questionable drafts and with the same drafts tried to buy a fine watch of J. G. Laupus. This man gave his name here as Harmon, but with a faker a name amounts to very little for he changes his name quite frequently. He did not succeed in beating any body here, but he got in his graft to the amount of about $500 at North Vernon according to reports.

June Pearson's

Pearson's Magazine for June presents as its leading article the first in an interesting series entitled "The Profession of Getting Hurt." The author, Mr. Theodore Waters, spent five months visiting the various big cities, where he unearthed among public corporations and among the various municipal heads a most amazing state of affairs showing how annually millions of dollars are "grafted" by this brand-new class of takers.

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 23rd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through stage and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.

Delineator For June.

A striking cover design, a girl's head in pastel, by George Gibbs, introduces the reader of the June Delineator to a varied and interesting table of contents, supplemented by a complete summary of the season's styles. In the literary portion of the magazine, Weymer Jay Mills contributes the first of a series of "Romances of Summer Resorts," which promise much of interest pictorially and otherwise. Newman's hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light," is the subject of a paper by Allan Suderland in the series "Famous Hymns of the World." In addition, there are house plans and house-furnishing ideas, and many pages devoted to the particular interests of the home, including, among other features, a paper on "The Practical Side of the Wedding," and a variety of suggestions for kitchen economy.

German Turners of America and Europe to Meet at Indianapolis.
The citizens of Indianapolis will spend $25,000 in entertaining visitors the week of June 21st, when the North American Gymnastic Union holds its festival at the State fair grounds. This union is made up of German physical culture societies of this country, and competing teams will come from England, Germany, Holland and Italy for the Indianapolis meeting. The gymnastic union holds its festivals once every four years and in magnitude and beauty they are more pretentious than the Olympic games of old. Men, women and children will make up the force of 2,000 athletes, who will camp at the fair grounds. Down in the city there will be day and night parades, band concerts and a festival play will be given. The railroad rate to the festival is one fare for the round trip, plus 25 cents, good going June 20th to 23rd, and returning until June 27th. Excursion tickets to Indianapolis will be sold by Pennsylvania Lines June 20th to 23rd, inclusive. For time of trains and further information, consult Local Ticket Agents of Pennsylvania Lines.

Justified Revenge.
Vincennes, Ind., May 12.—Cornerer Builey has returned a verdict of "guilty" in the killing of Ellis Phillips by Constable J. W. Hart at Oaktown last Saturday. It is understood that a gang of fourteen men who had been arrested by Hart for various misdemeanors had planned to "shoot up" the town that night, but when Phillips, one of their number, "got his" in the afternoon they abandoned their plans and the leaders confessed and begged forgiveness.
Welker Now in Jail.
Fort Wayne, Ind., May 12.—The police superintendent served a warrant on John Welker charging him with willfully killing his sweetheart, Minnie Melching, and soon after the sheriff called to remove him from the hospital to the jail. He made no comment when the warrant was read, and, although it was the first official knowledge of the death of Miss Melching, it is believed that he had already surmised the fact.
Satisfactory Adjustment Promised.
Arlington, Ind., May 12.—The committee appointed to audit the books of the Arlington bank found that the cash account tallies exactly with the statement by Messrs. Goodrich and Jones, and that the balance amounts to $3,800. As far as the committee investigated everything was found to be square. Attorneys for the bank say that while there will be a shortage of greater or less degree, it was incurred legitimately, and it has been secured by notes signed by Goodrich and Jones, and indorsed by relatives. It is now thought that the affairs of the closed concern will be adjusted satisfactorily to all concerned.
Maccabees Sued on Policy.
Goshen, Ind., May 12.—Declaring her husband did not commit suicide as alleged, Mrs. Eliza Bingham has filed suit against Supreme Tent of the Maccabees to collect $10,000 life insurance. Bingham was found dead in a hotel room in Chicago with a bullet hole in his head. Near by was a revolver which he had taken to bed with him. The lodge claims suicide, but Mrs. Bingham claims death was accidental.
Had a Cigarette Paper.
Marion, Ind., May 12.—John McCormick was fined $37 by City Judge Wilson for having one cigarette paper in his possession, and being unable to pay the fine, was remanded to jail for forty-seven weeks. McCormick was first arrested for vagrancy, but when searched the single cigarette paper was found and a charge under the anti-cigarette law was then filed.
Sideshow Struck by Lightning.
Marietta, Ohio, May 12.—William Tullius of Lowell was killed by a stroke of lightning which struck a sideshow tent of the Wallace circus, and four others were injured.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.
Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Seymour Citizen's Experience
Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented. The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is. Now supposing you had a bad back. A lame, Weak or Aching one. Would you experiment on it? You will read of many so-called cures. Endorsed by strangers from far-away places. It's different when the endorsement comes from home. Easy to prove local testimony. Home endorsement is the proof that backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.
Read this case:
Mrs. James Pollard of 501 Cincinnati avenue, says: "I know that my back stopped aching and that my kidney had not bothered me since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at C. W. Milhous, the druggist. I had previous to using them, a feeling of languor which made me tired mornings, my back ached all the time and at times I was very dizzy. After the positive results I obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney pills I have no hesitation in recommending this reliable remedy to others."

THE LIST OF DEAD
Tornado at Snyder, Okla., Claimed a Hundred Lives.
WIPED THE TOWN OUT
Where Once Was a Thriving Town of a Thousand People Is Now a Heap of Ruins
Beside Those Killed Outright The List of Seriously Injured is a Long One.
Guthrie, Okla., May 12.—The death list of the tornado at Snyder is expected to exceed 100. Ninety-five bodies have been recovered; a dozen persons are missing and given up for dead, and of the forty-one seriously wounded seven are fatally hurt. More than 100 others suffered less severe injuries.
Relief is being sent from neighboring towns. From Oklahoma City went 100 men to dig graves and seek the dead still in the ruins and also a dozen undertakers with 100 coffins. Offers of financial assistance have come from numerous cities. Governor Ferguson of Oklahoma has issued a proclamation calling attention to the needs of the stricken town.
To add to the general confusion and distress, after the tornado had passed fire broke out and burned up all that remained of the buildings on one of the business blocks. So far it has not been possible to find out whether or not any bodies were cremated, but it is highly possible that such was the case.
An unidentified woman was picked up dead, having been pinioned to the ground by a scantling which entered her left eye and came out through the back of her head. Clarence Donovan, a railroad engineer, and Miss Nina Fessenden were to have been married Wednesday night, but had postponed the nuptials until Thursday. Both were instantly killed. Fred Crump, a boy, had started to a cellar when a flying timber struck him and severed his head from his body.
Debris was carried to the northeast as far as Coopersburg, twelve miles, and it is reported that there are more of the fragments of homes at that town and in that vicinity than are in the tornado's path at Snyder. About seventy-five head of horses and cattle were killed on the townsite.
The mayor of Snyder is having much trouble arranging for the burial of the dead. The confusion is great, owing to the fact that there remain a number of unidentified bodies at the morgues. There is much suffering owing to lack of provisions and places to stay. What houses remain in the town are in bad condition and unsafe for habitation. Besides there is not room enough to care for the homeless. Bedding and wearing apparel are both lacking, and despite the efforts to succor the unfortunates, they are still in a pitiable condition. Many of the wounded could not be cared for or given medical aid for hours, and by that time their wounds were aggravated. Dr. York of Hobart, who was active in relieving the suffering, says that 20 per cent of the wounded will die.
Snyder is about a mile square. The tornado struck the town just a little west of the southwest corner of the township. Its pathway was about half a mile wide, and in this strip there is not a vestige of anything left, and in places the ground is literally plowed up. To the west of the pathway everything is devastated with the exception of one or two stone stores. The course of the tornado was due northeast. Just preceding it there was a heavy rain-storm, accompanied by vivid flashes of lightning and deafening thunder. Nearly all of the homes in Snyder had storm cellars, and during this heavy downpour many sought shelter in these cellars. Then there was a let-up of perhaps ten minutes, during which many, thinking that the storm had broken, left their places of refuge and returned to their homes. Then with a deafening rumbling noise the funnel-shaped cloud dipped to the earth, apparently two miles from town and, with appalling velocity, crashed through the town.
Sustained Force of Wind.
Fort Cobb, Okla., May 12.—Many lay books, letters, photographs, bank books and papers have been picked up here, having been blown here from Snyder, a distance of sixty miles.
Insurance Fraud Alleged.
New York, May 12.—Emil H. Neuman, a clerk employed by the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and Thomas Lobley, Jr., who lives in this city, have been arrested, charged with complicity with Sam Leiby, who was taken into custody at Spragueville, Pa., a few days ago, charged with fraudulently obtaining a $27,000 loan on a policy which is alleged to have been stolen from the society's vaults.
Cut Off His Enemy's Nose.
Terre Haute, Ind., May 12.—As the result of a quarrel of long standing, James Dunbar, a grocerman, and George Zimmerman, living near Dunbar's premises in the north part of the city, engaged in a fierce fight. Zimmerman seized a hoe and with it cut off Dunbar's nose.
